

SCARY

Contributed by Alex

Ok my cousin's boyfriend told me this.....

So my cousins boyfriend is driving down the highway when some drunk guy swerves in front of him and almost runs another car into a ditch, except the barriers were just starting, so the barrier smashed through the car's windshield and into the car. Then the drunk guy hits an old lady in a Mercury Grand Marquis and the mercury goes flying into the air and rolls over sideways in the air and almost gets stuck in a tree but it just falls and lands upside down.

By the time the cops and ambulance and fire truck come the drunk guy crashed into the barrier and got killed. The guy who got ran through the barrier was dead because the barrier went through his head after it broke the windshield. And the old lady had a broken arm and was really freaked out because her mercurys hood was on fire. My cousin's boyfriend said it was super freaky to see and he called my cousin real quick and she told him to get back home. So my cousins boyfriend didnt actually get hurt but it was close.